Councilmembers met individually with City staff to discuss their short-term priorities for the City. A follow-up prioritization survey was created to provide a high-level account for the unique and common priorities expressed by Councilmembers.

Staff then gained a high-level consensus on short-term priorities for the City, during the City Council retreat, held on April 24, 2022. Staff provided recommendations on each priority's feasibility and related impacts over the next few years. The assessment considered organizational capacity and impacts to existing service, as well as potential benchmarks to gauge success over 2022 to 2024.

Council and staff reviewed the priorities, work plan process, and deliberated on the feedback and assessments provided.

Council expressed a need for developing a framework for future annexations within the Lacey Urban Growth Area. Due to additional funding sources available, Council also directed staff to review ARPA Fund commitments in order to evaluate priorities.

Next steps include a presentation of the Draft 2022-2024 Workplan to Council for consideration for adoption.
